With Guest Speakers Steve and Paula Piatt

As they take us on a journey (through breath taking pictures and captivating stories) north through the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. Traveling the Dalton Highway, continuing into Alaska, all the way to the head of the Alaska pipeline in Prudhoe Bay.

Native Pennsylvanians Steve and Paula Piatt have called the Valley their home for the past 30 years. Steve and Paula share their love for the outdoors -- hunting, fishing, canoeing, hiking and exploring together, having been blessed with many great adventures. Steve is editor of New York Outdoor News, a statewide hunting and fishing publication. Paula serves as associate editor and also finds time to work for sportsmen in Pennsylvania as a member of Gov. Tom Wolf's Advisory Council for Hunting, Fishing and Conservation. The Piatts make their home with their two Labrador retrievers, Hailey and Finnleigh.
